Over 400 absentee votes cast

Registrar expects big voter turnout Tuesday

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Hancock County polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. for Tuesday's General Election, according to Henry Otis, circuit clerk.

Otis expects a heavy turnout Tuesday in view of heavy absentee voting which ended Saturday at noon in his office. Noon Monday is deadline for arrival at the clerk's office of absentee ballots by mail.

Otis stated late Saturday, "With approximately 400 absentee votes already cast, a record for Hancock County, we should have a large turnout on Tuesday."

Appearing on Tuesday's ballot are names of electors committed to Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter and vice presidential candidate Walter F. Mondale and Republican presidential candidate Ronald Reagan and vice presidential candidate George Bush.

Independent Presidential candidate John B. Anderson's electors are on the ballot, but no vice presidential running mate is listed.

Other independent electors on Tuesday's ballot in Mississippi are pledged to vote for presidential candidate "Deirdre" Griswold and vice presidential candidate Larry Holmes, and presidential candidate Andrew Pulley and his running mate, Matilde Zimmermann.

Hancock residents will also choose between incumbent Republican U.S. Representative John L. Dingell and Democrat Jimmy McCreary, a Pascagoula contractor, for the State's Fifth Congressional District post.

Democrat Harry G. Walker is unopposed for the Southern District seat on the Mississippi Supreme Court.

Hancock County School District voters will select a Beat One school board member from a three-man Democratic slate, George E. Ladner, Gerald (Jerry) Ladner and Richard (Pat) Patterson.

Beat One school board incumbent Oris Ladner did not seek re-election. Beat Two school board member Monvel Cuevas is unopposed.

School board members are elected on a county-wide basis, according to Otis, under provisions of a local-and-private bill passed in the legislature which also eliminates runoff elections. The candidate polling the most votes will be declared winner.

The five county school board positions are filled on a rotating basis. Also unopposed are Hancock County Board of Election Commissioners Democratic candidates J. V. Ladner of District One and Francis L. Lee of District Two.

Republican John V. Ladner is unopposed for the election commission in District Three. He will replace Democratic incumbent J. Roland Ladner who did not seek re-election.

Seeking the election commission post in District Four are Democrat Daniel (Dan) Seal and Republican Jerry Seuzeneau. They seek the post held by Edgar (Pete) Moran who also did not seek re-election.

Jake V. Morreale, election commissioner in District Five, did not seek re-election and Charles F. Gottschalk, a Democrat, faces no opposition for that post.

Otis emphasized that county school system residents only will vote in the school board race.

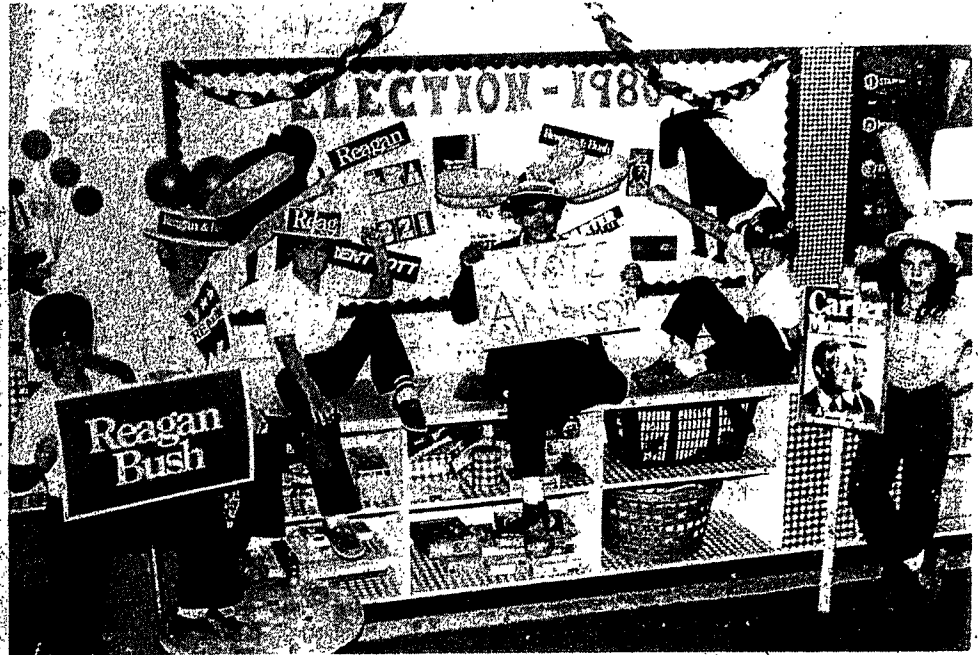

"In the precincts of Arlington, Flat Top and West Shoreline Park, voters living in the school district will be voting for school board members and those outside the district, although within the precincts, will not," Otis added.

The circuit clerk said in selecting presidential electors, a person can vote for any seven electors, no matter the party.

Otis allowed, "A voter can vote up to seven electors from the first three pages of the ballot, however a ballot will be voided for the presidential race if more than seven are selected."

"The State Attorney General's office informed me a voter does not have to vote for all seven in one party," Otis explained.

Samples of the Hancock County ballot pages appear on Page 6A of today's Echo.

ELECTIONEERING, 1980—Generating support for their favorite presidential candidates in the 1980 national election this week are, from left, Billy Gulce, Frank Burdette, Mac Murphree, Alex Helwig, Scott Hourin and Cody Reiss, third and fifth grade students at Christ Episcopal School in Bay St. Louis who are campaigning for a mock election at the school Tuesday.

Commission to recommend old airfield site for shelter

By WAYNE DUCOMBE JR.
A newly formed Hancock County Animal Control Commission will propose the county's first animal shelter be located on a section of an abandoned airfield near the Garden Isles Community.

Commission Chairman C. J. Dumestre of Waveland said Friday, "We will recommend to the Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday that an animal shelter be located on a 200 foot by 300 foot site on an abandoned airfield behind the County Fairgrounds."

The commission decided upon the site at its organizational meeting in the County Chamber of Commerce offices in Bay St. Louis Thursday night.

The Hancock County Humane Society has been searching several months for an appropriate site for the shelter.

Presently, the only animal shelter in the county is a dog pound located near the Alcan. Cable Co. plant in Bay St. Louis which also serves Waveland.

The county has never operated such a facility and has no animal control laws other than stock laws and state animal control statutes.

The present pound serving the two cities has become overcrowded and Alcan expansion plans have necessitated demolition of the facility.

Alcan owns the pound property and has delayed expansion plans until a new shelter site is found and a new facility constructed.

The City of Bay St. Louis has offered property near its oxidation pond in the western portion of the city, but officials rejected the site because it was a burrow pit which frequently flooded.

Commission member Jerry Cammiskey of Waveland has offered to donate property he owns near his home, but commission and society officials feel the residential location would not be suitable.

However, the Waveland site will be recommended to the supervisors Monday as a secondary location.

Dumestre said the airfield site is some 300 feet south of the intersection of Chapman and Washington Roads near Garden Isles.

The airfield property belongs to the county.

The grass airstrip became obsolete several years ago after Stennis International Airport was built in central Hancock County.

The commission president reported the airfield site is ideally suited for the animal shelter because it is bordered by the fairground's pig barn, a cattle field and woodlands.

"The U.S. Navy Seabees in Gulfport have agreed to build the facility free, but we will have to give them architectural specifications and drawings for them to follow," Dumestre explained.

The commission president is searching for an expert to donate plans for the animal shelter.

"We only have approximately $15,000 to build this facility, so we are looking for any donations from the community we can get," he explained.

Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County are working on the project. SHELFER-Page 2A

Waveland K-Mart to open Thursday

The new 55,552-square-foot K mart discount department store on US-90 in Waveland will open to the public at 9 a.m. Thursday, according to Manager Douglas W. Vandivere.

The Waveland K mart will bring the number of K marts in Mississippi to 15. Addition of the Waveland store November 6, will bring the total of K marts in the United States, Puerto Rico and Canada to 1,835.

Waveland officials and K mart Corporation executives will take part in a brief ribbon-cutting ceremony at the main doors of the department store immediately before opening.

"Our new K mart, selling nationally advertised products at discount prices, backs all sales with a satisfaction always policy," Vandivere said.

Among merchandise to be carried are appliances; building tools; floor coverings; draperies; yard goods and sewing materials; women's, men's, boys', girls' and infants' clothing; bedding; jewelry; camera supplies; books and records; pet supplies; and health and beauty aids.

The K mart will also have a complete automotive center with an auto music section featuring stereo tape players and tapes.

Bay schools to let out early for election day

In conjunction with the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's get-out-the-vote campaign, social studies teachers in the Bay St. Louis Public Schools are explaining the process followed to elect the President of the United States.

These studies are intended to stimulate awareness of Tuesday's Presidential Election, Nov. 3, hoping that all qualified voters will vote for the candidate of their choice.

To further recognize this special day the Bay Waveland School Board has authorized J. D. McCullough, superintendent, to dismiss elementary schools at 1 p.m. and junior and senior high schools at 1:30 p.m. in order to facilitate voting by teachers, parents, and registered students.

Halloween no treat for sheriff

By ELLIS CUEVAS
Halloween was an active night, according to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald (Ronnie) Peterson.

Peterson said that he received a call at 9:59 p.m. Friday at home from a person in Pearlington reporting a disturbance at Dagmar's Bar.

Peterson said, "Upon arrival at the establishment, Capt. Paul Bernard and Deputy David Garcia found chairs and tables turned over and considerable damage to the business."

"An affidavit was signed against George Jones, 29, 202 Watts Street, Bay St. Louis for two counts of aggravated assault," Peterson stated. Peterson reported that Jones was allegedly involved in a fight at the Pearlington bar and he was arrested and is out on a bond of $5,000.

Jones is scheduled to appear before Justice Court Judge Lee Klein on Nov. 12.

On another matter, Peterson said the sheriff's office received a call from Diamondhead Security reporting numerous mail boxes and signs were torn down during the night of Halloween or early Saturday morning. The vandalism is being investigated by Hancock Investigator Delbert Seay.

Three-engine test firing planned at NSTL Monday

A test version of the Space Shuttle's main propulsion system is scheduled to be static fired for 581 seconds Monday at NSTL in Hancock County.

The firing is tentatively set for early afternoon, according to David Jones, NSTL public affairs representative.

This will be the 11th firing of the system and one of two scheduled main propulsion tests remaining before the first Shuttle flight in March, 1981.

According to Bob Bush, main propulsion test article program resident manager at Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., the three flight-type engines will start at 100 percent of rated power level and at 65 seconds they will be throttled to 102 percent for more than 300 seconds.

Engine No. 2 will be cut off at 429 seconds; Engine No. 1 at 500 seconds; and Engine No. 3 will run at 90 percent until the test is completed at 581 seconds.

The main propulsion system consists of a cluster of three liquid-fueled engines, an external propellant tank; a simulated Orbiter aft section; and associated systems.

The final main propulsion system firing before flight of the first Shuttle is now scheduled for late November, according to James M. Sisson, manager of the major test activity for the Marshall Center.

The test program at NSTL is carried out under the auspices of NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center with personnel of Rockwell, engine manufacturer, conducting static firings.

NSTL provides laboratory, technical and facility support.

Girls develop test for diamonds
Science experiments by Sarah Goldsmith, 14, of Sydney, Australia, have led to the development of a device that may save diamond buyers money.

Sarah's heat-conductivity experiments on gemstones with two other girls enabled them to tell diamonds from other stones by sounds each made in a carbon-dioxide test.

Diamonds were the best conductor and produced the strongest sound oscillations by releasing the most gas from frozen carbon dioxide.

and Diamondhead Security, according to Peterson.

At 8:08 p.m. Halloween night, Peterson reported, the sheriff's office received a call from a Jourdan River Shores resident saying her home was broken into and that someone may still be inside.

"Deputies Fairley, Necaise and Ronnie Cuevas responded to the call and found no one inside.

A Gulfport Police dog and trainer were summoned to check out the wooded area near the subdivision," Peterson allowed.

Items found to be missing by the owner included eight guns and gold and silver items, Peterson said.

Saturday afternoon Peterson said he received a call from Sgt. Bernard Smith's officers reporting two persons from this area were trying to sell a gun in Chalmette and they had them in custody.

"The number on the gun they were trying to sell matched a serial number of one of the weapons that had been sent Investigator Seay and Deputy Ronnie Cuevas to Chalmette to check out the two. I feel that they are involved in the burglary of the Jourdan River Shores residence," Peterson reported.

In other police activities, the sheriff reports at 1:08 a.m. Friday a call was received by his office from NSTL reporting someone had run over their South Gate Guard Shack.

Capt. Bernard and Deputy Garcia arrested Richard J. Nolan, 44, 7710 Devine Ave., New Orleans, La. in connection with that incident, Peterson said.

Nolan is charged with reckless driving, driving under the influence, causing an accident and failure to yield at a stop sign. He has been released under $1,775 bond, according to police.

The tractor-trailer truck Nolan was driving suffered heavy damage and the South Gate Guard Shack was destroyed, according to Peterson.

Nolan is also scheduled to appear before Justice Court Judge Lee Kian Nov. 12.

EDITORIAL

We all need to vote Tuesday!

Tuesday is an important day for Americans, the day we elect the person who will serve the next four years as president. We know many of you have a feeling that it is not important to vote for the candidate of your choice because you may feel it will not count.

Then there are others who think there is not a person they would like to vote for in the presidential race. No matter how you feel about the candidates, we tend to feel there is an urgency for each person to cast a ballot.

Every vote does count, several presidential elections have been won by less than one vote per precinct. Right here in Hancock County during the past 20 years, one vote has made the difference in several races we can recall.

We are not going to try to influence you as to whom to vote for in the election, all we want you to do is get out and vote.

There always seems to be a tendency for the persons not voting to raise the most cause about the elected officials, when their vote may have made a difference as to who is elected.

Very important offices such as a House of Representatives member from the Fifth Congressional District, as well as school board members and election commissioners are at stake in this election.

With so much focus on our schools in recent months, you know it is important for electors to select the person they think can best represent them on school matters.

So we hope you cast your ballot Tuesday, and while on the way to the polls take your neighbor along.

Be an American interested in America, show your patriotism by voting Tuesday.

Bits 'n pieces

Congratulations are in order for the Bay High Tiger Band on receiving superiors in all categories at the Deep South Marching Band Festival last weekend.

We know a lot of practice by the band members, and dedication in attaining excellence by the fine young men and women could not have been more emphasized than by the superior ratings.

We know the Tiger Pride Band Aides are also real proud of your achievements.

If a person is looking for some laughs this afternoon, we suggest they stop by the Waveland Civic Center and view the Waveland Players in action.

The local fun group is presenting the funny musical-comedy 'Of Thee I Sing' starting at 3 p.m. this afternoon.

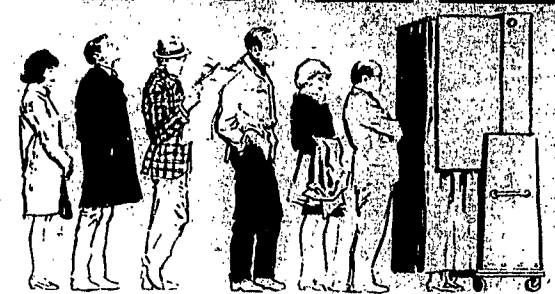

The civic center is located on Coleman Ave., Waveland and if you do not have time this afternoon, you may try next Friday or Saturday night or Sunday afternoon.

We have been told by some who have seen the rehearsals that everyone will be in stitches and the admission price is only $3.

It sure feels good to wake up in the mornings and look out your window and see smoke blowing out of the chimneys in the neighborhood again.

Guess ole man winter is about to arrive. Well we have had our share of hot weather this past long, long summer.

GET OUT THE VOTE

ELECTION DAY

American Legion Guest Editorial

GET OUT THE VOTE

This is a presidential election year. As we head toward the general election in November, let's make it an election that will let the world know Americans value their freedoms.

The American Legion again this year is participating in the "GET OUT THE VOTE" campaign. The Legion has been on record since 1920 urging all Legionnaires to exercise their patriotic duty.

But the Legion has found, just as the candidates have, it's a tough task getting Americans to exercise their right to vote, particularly during presidential election years.

Inquiring into this dilemma, all kinds of explanations are offered, but none of the excuses offered stands up under analysis. One vote, for example, can decide an election and frequently has.

President Harry Truman won the 1948 election, but would have lost if he had not carried California and Ohio, and he did that by less than one vote per precinct.

In the same year, Texas sent Lyndon Johnson to the Senate by a majority of only 87 votes.

In the 1960 presidential election, the late John F. Kennedy defeated Richard Nixon for the highest office in the land by a hairline margin, averaging less than one vote per precinct.

That year there were 166,137 election precincts in the United States, and his plurality was only 118,550.

If some of those people who thought their vote wouldn't count had voted, the results of these elections might have been different.

This is America ... and we live the American way of life. But unfortunately one of the frailties of human nature is to take for granted the blessings that are given to us.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions About Advertising and Business Topics

By S. GALE DANLEY

Associate Professor of Journalism

University of Mississippi

I run a fairly large super-market, but due to crowded floor space, need to limit displays and get customers in and out more quickly. Would more advertising make up for the lack of displays? Getting crowded.

Dear GC: Probably not to the extent of your loss of sales due to lack of displays. DuPont and the Point of Purchase Advertising Institute have conducted a series of studies on grocery purchases in which they found that a combination of the two is the most effective.

Using canned goods as a test, they found that displays are used in conjunction with ads sales would be fourfold what they would be if neither were used.

ADS without displays produced a third fewer sales than the combination of the two, and displays without ads, they found produced 50 per cent less.

Supermarkets have found out about this through experience. Thus, the full-page newspaper spreads, and the average of displays, of shelves, counters, bins, baskets, miniature billboards, promotions, and special and colorful packaging.

So the answer to your question is that displays might be better (than the reverse) but both are really needed for an optimum operation.

Other findings of the study, which are contrasted with findings in the late 1960s, include:

• Grocery shoppers now spend about twice as much money, and take a little longer to shop.

• Some six out of 10 shoppers visit the grocery not more than two times a week. In 1967 one half of the shoppers visited their grocery only once a week.

• One out of every three grocery shoppers now shops for a special occasion, such as a birthday or anniversary.

• The average grocery shopper now spends $10.00 per week, up from $7.00 in 1967.

What happened to campaign issues of crime and drugs?

Editor
The Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

What ever happened to the campaign issues of crime in the streets and the drug problems?

At least Carter's negative, fragmentary, tentative position is manifest.

Crime continues unabated; urban, suburban, even rural areas remain the battle grounds, and the people are still prisoners in their homes.

Drug problems reach into the innermost sanctums of the White House.

Were it not for Carter's protections and cover-ups, such notables, so-called as Dr. Peter Bourne, (formerly a $1,000 White House adviser on drugs who had to resign for forging a drug prescription for an employee, Ms. Toby Long) confidants Hamilton Jordan and Tim Kraft, (who allegedly sniffed coaine, and the latter now awaiting investigation had to resign as Carter's no. 1 campaign strategist, plus no doubt many others) would have alerted the nation's media to such headlines as: Carter again ducks questions on drug connections in the White House.

What a sad commentary! Time to change captains for our ship of state.

Cordially,
J. Ashton Greene

Children Can Learn Good Dental Habits

Good teeth start in childhood, and there are things parents can do to help insure that their offspring have a minimum of dental health problems both in childhood and later years.

To point up the fundamentals of good dental health for children, the American Dental Association has declared the first full week in February as National Children's Dental Health Week.

The ADA lists four simple rules which, if followed faithfully, can help reduce decay:

• Cut down on sweets, especially between meals.

• Brush teeth immediately after eating (snacks as well as regular meals). When this is not possible, rinse mouth thoroughly with water.

• Have regular dental checkups. This enables the dentist to discover decay and other dental problems early.

• Use fluoridated water, if available, or use fluoride toothpaste.

greatly reduces decay. Where water supplies are not fluoridated, dentists sometimes suggest applying fluoride directly to children's teeth.

Sugar is named as a major cause of tooth decay. Bacteria that are present in the mouth act on sugar to produce acids. These acids attack the teeth. Of course, sugar is an important part of the diet. But it can be controlled. Nibbling on sweets all day is hard on your teeth. Eat your candy all at once, then brush your teeth.

The American Medical Association points out that many children, perhaps most of them, lose a tooth or two through an accident, often with a baseball bat or a playground fall. If this happens, wrap the tooth in a wet towel and take both child and tooth to the dentist. Sometimes the tooth can be replanted.

Dental dentists agree that the child should make his first visit to the dentist at about age 12 months. By this time the baby teeth are in, and the dentist can check for signs of decay or malocclusion.

A sound teeth in childhood can prevent many dental problems in later life. Regular dental care is an important part of overall health care for the family.

A special exhibition of photographs of William Faulkner entitled "William Faulkner - The Cofield Collection" will open at the City-County Public Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis Monday, Nov. 21.

The show will hang through Nov. 21. The exhibition consists of sepia prints of Faulkner photographs, combined with texts from his letters and lectures mounted on silk-screened, three-color panels. Based on photographs from the book of the same title, the Faulkner exhibit was designed by Patti C. Black, Mississippi State Historical Museum director, and Susan Halton, museum staff artist, with the permission of Jack Cofield, editor of "The Cofield Collection," and the Yoknapatawpha Press of Oxford.

The photographs range from scenes of Faulkner's childhood, college years, and years abroad, to family life and scenes of the artist at work in his Oxford, Mississippi home, Rowan Oak.

Prominent in the exhibit are the "studio" portraits of Faulkner, made by J. R. Cofield in his Oxford studio. The Cofield Collection, a product of the photographic artistry and the collecting instinct of J. R. Cofield, is a matchless pictorial record of the life of Mississippi's Nobel Prize-winning author.

A Faulkner poster, produced by the State Historical Museum, a division of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, will be available at the exhibit. The City-County Public Library is open Monday from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.; and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The public is invited to view the Faulkner photographs without charge.

Pirates, Rocks deadlock, 12-12

Rock Juan Betanzos scores 49 yard field goal

By EDGAR PEREZ
The Pass Christian Pirates, in an inter-county rivalry contest with St. Stanislaus of Bay St. Louis Friday night, came from behind in the final minutes to secure a 12-12 tie and preserve their record of never being defeated by the Rock-A-Chows.

Head Coaches Barry Jones of SSC and Bob Lumpkin of The Pass both said after the game they would like to have staged overtime periods to settle the matter.

At Lumpkin's urging, however, the pair agreed prior to the start of the game, as required by conference rules, to forego any overtime period in the event of a tie.

"I felt like we would have been at a distinct disadvantage in overtime because of St. Stanislaus' superior kicking game," Lumpkin said of his pre-game decision.

However, the Pirate mentor said Saturday, "By the end of the game we had a good momentum going and I wished at that point I would have agreed to overtime—we would have had as good a chance as they had to win it."

"We were very disappointed we couldn't play it off," St. Stanislaus head coach Barry Jones commented.

"Our kids play to win and it's a big letdown to have to settle for a tie. I think they deserve the chance to have a playoff and either win the contest outright or lose it. Most of the other Coast conferences have rules calling for a playoff in the event of a tie, maybe our conference needs the same rule," Jones added.

Lumpkin's pre-game respect for the Rocks' kicking prowess proved not to be unfounded when early in the second period Stanislaus' 150-pound place kicking sensation Juan Betanzos, on his second try of the evening, booted a 49-yard field goal attempt dead center over the uprights.

The Rocks took that 3-0 lead to the locker room at halftime. Betanzos also nailed down an extra point for his side in the third quarter after the Rocks only touchdown, all the more valuable after Pass Christian's failure to kick an extra point in the final seconds of the game left the encounter knotted at 12-12.

Pirate Center Eldridge Dedeaux opened the fourth quarter by recovering a Rock punt he blocked at the SSC 4-yard line.

Tailback Oscar Bailey carried for the needed distance for a score on the next play.

Pirate Earl Conway, who came off the bench when regular QB Buck Bradley aggravated a knee injury in the second quarter, failed to add two points on a keeper, and Stanislaus maintained the lead, 10-6.

A mended Sean Logan was the offensive standout for Stanislaus with a total of 111 yards rushing in 18 carries. He sparked an 11-down offensive series by the Rocks following the Pirates' touchdown which set up the next SSC scoring opportunity.

The Rocks, through a succession of miscues and penalties in that series, were forced to punt on fourth down from their own 33.

Pat Kergosien's kick was downed at the Pirate 13, and an illegal block by The Pass put the ball at the eight.

Conway connected with tight end Michael Hall for a first down at the 27, but when he tried for another completion on the next play, the quarterback was sacked at his own ten.

Stanislaus defensive standout Lee Klein sacked Conway again on the next play, this time in the Pirate endzone giving the Rocks two more points for a 12-6 lead.

The Rocks failed to secure a first down in the ensuing series, and following another Kergosien punt, the Pirates took over again on their own 40.

Logan broke up a bomb attempt by Conway to Greg Porter, but on the next play the official ruled an interference against Stanislaus giving the Pirates a first and ten on the Rocks' 20.

Conway dropped the next snap, but fell on the ball; threw an incomplete pass into the endzone; then couldn't find a receiver, but noticed half the Stanislaus defense was in the endzone and ultimately carried the ball himself to the 10 yard line.

Conway connected with Danny Brown in the endzone for the second Pirate score with only 55 seconds left in the game, tying the score at 12-12.

Jeff Ulrich's attempt at the conversion failed and that final score was fixed on the board.

EARLY ACTION

Pass Christian took the opening kickoff, stalled for three downs at their own 20, punted to the Rocks and recovered a hobbled punt return at mid-field.

The tables were quickly turned, however, when Klein blocked a Pirate punt on fourth down and SSC recovered the ball at the Pirate 33.

The Pass defense held firm, and Stanislaus found itself with fourth down at the Pirate 37 after nine tries.

Betanzos limbered up his magic toe at that point with a 47-yard field goal attempt which fell short.

Klein almost single-handedly held the Pirates on the following series, forcing Darrell Hayden to punt which gave the Rocks the ball at their own 47.

Quarterback Joe Gex and Logan kept the Rocks alive on the ground with a first down at the Pirate 40, where Betanzos staged his 'would-you-hellove-that' kick from the 49.

Controversial calls by the officials kept coaches jumping up and down on both sides of the field, including a second quarter ruling which nullified a SSC fumble recovery at the Pirate 30.

Officials ruled the play had been whistled dead prematurely, prior to the recovery, and ordered the play, a Rock punt, be run over.

To open the second half, Gex and Logan again sparked the Rocks' offense on a 14-play drive from their own 35 to the Pirate endzone.

That lone Stanislaus touchdown was scored by Gex on a keeper from the five.

The Pass coaching staff was disenchanted with that scoring play, which involved another so-called inadvertent whistle from an official.

In this case, the offense had the option of running the play over or accepting the down as run.

Naturally, Stanislaus took the down worth six points.

Statistics in the 12-12 outing gave the edge to Stanislaus who scored 10 first downs to five for Pass.

Back in action, Sean Logan, No. 22, sparked Rock offense

Stanislaus rushed for a total of 159 yards to a meager 23 for the Pirates. Pirates gained 69 yards in the air, however, to 44 for the Rocks.

The Pirates completed five of 11 pass attempts with one interception.

Stanislaus earned its 44 aerial yards in three completions in five attempts.

Pass Christian Friday

entertains a powerful and fumbles and the Pirates recovered all three of their bobbles.

Nine penalties cost the Rocks 102 yards, while the Pirates were caught four times for a 30 yard loss.

Stanislaus' five punts averaged 25 yards.

Pass Christian Friday

entertains a powerful and

talented Long Beach squad which will be smarting after an unexpected 12-3 defeat this week at the hands of Harrison Central.

Pass stands 2-3-1 in the Pascagoula River Conference and 3-4-1 overall.

St. Stanislaus takes its 2-1-1 conference and 6-2-1 overall record to East Central in Jackson County Friday.

St. Martin tricks Tigers in local Halloween contest

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Bay Senior High School's Tigers were stung badly by the St. Martin Yellowjackets in a Friday night football game in Bay St. Louis.

Bay High lost the contest with St. Martin 7-33.

A gripping cold Halloween night greeted the teams and a handful of fans on both sides of the field.

Momentarily at the end of the first quarter the Tigers looked good when tough Bay High Split End Dennis Rhodes recovered a fumble by Yellowjacket Quarterback Jeff Webb on St. Martin's 34 yard line.

Rhodes scrambled to the Yellowjacket 22 yard line.

The very next play Bay High Quarterback David Palmisano handed off to Tiger Alex Herrington who scampered down the left side of the field for the first touchdown of the game with three minutes and 52 seconds left in the first period.

Tiger Field Goal Specialist Van Fayard upped the score to seven-33 although the Tigers received a five-yard penalty for illegal procedure.

But the Yellowjackets spring back into action on the kick-off when St. Martin Split End David Ross ran a 100-yard touchdown return.

Yellowjacket kicker Albert Lechner then kicked a field goal to tie the game seven-up. Bay High couldn't fight out of their own territory.

St. Martin's defense quickly turned the ball back to its offensive team.

In a second and seven situation on the Tigers 14 yard line, Webb handed off to Runningback Scott Seymour who scrambled through the right side of the line for the Yellowjacket's second TD with 11 minutes and 11 seconds left in the first half.

Lechner blasted the ball through the uprights for the extra point raising the score to 14-7.

Then in a third and six situation on the Tiger nine yard line, Webb heaved his way through the middle of the Tiger defense for another touchdown with about five minutes left in the first half.

Lechner's extra point attempt was no good, leaving the score at seven-20.

Bay High's offense tried a passing game, but was stopped cold mid-field with an interception.

The turnover occurred in a bungled play where Tiger Quarterback Steve Seymour threw a screen pass to wingback Stephen Hargrett who threw a pass right to Yellowjacket Billy Wise who ran back to the Bay High 35 yard line.

Bulla series of penalties and periodic good defensive tactics by Bay High stopped another first half score by St. Martin.

The Tiger's got the ball back, but again couldn't get out of their own territory.

St. Martin's offense got the ball on the Tiger 46 yard line and hammered down field using a consistent running game.

Then in a third and six situation on the Tiger nine yard line, Webb heaved his way through the middle of the Tiger defense for another touchdown with about five minutes left in the first half.

Thomas then threw the pigskin back across the field where a Yellowjacket defensive player intercepted the ball.

The Tigers got another break when St. Martin fumbled the ball back to Bay High defensivemen.

The Tiger offense couldn't move against the Yellowjackets.

In a fourth and 12 situation deep in Tiger territory Seymour punted the ball out.

Another poor extra point attempt by Lechner fell far to the right of the uprights.

The Tigers' now have a season record of 1-8.

'Winter Chicken' in Southern premiere at Slidell dinner club

By EDGAR PEREZ
Minacapelli's Dinner Theatre is currently presenting a new comedy by Jennifer Jarrett, 'Winter Chicken'.

'Winter Chicken' will preview today and Thursday, and commence a six-week run Friday, playing Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings with a Sunday matinee.

The evening performances are at 8:30 p.m. preceded by a 6:30 p.m. buffet, and the matinee performances are at 2:30 p.m. preceded by a 1 p.m. buffet.

'Winter Chicken' is the story of Eleanor Handley's attempt to relieve her rapidly declining financial condition by tricking her ex-husband into remarrying her.

Her first step is to convince him to come from New York to the Southern town where they lived together, and then create a climate conducive to a proposal of remarriage. Eleanor accomplishes this with the unwitting aid of their daughter, Elizabeth, and the reluctant assistance of her neighbor, Elma Blue, a slightly boozy novice.

The consequences of her connivance make for a surprising and hilarious evening.

Playing the title role of Eleanor, the 'Winter Chicken' is Jinx Fowlkes.

Ms. Fowlkes was last seen on the Minacapelli stage as the distraught mother of the bride in Plaza Suite.

Very active in community theatre, she has appeared at NORD Theatre in the lead role in 'Murder Among Friends' along with many appearances in Slidell Little Theatre productions.

An accomplished director and set designer, she amply demonstrates her versatility in this demanding role.

Appearing as the suspicious and somewhat cynical ex-husband, Walter, is Bob Kearney. Last seen at Minacapelli in Barefoot in the Park, Kearney brings extensive experience to the role, having appeared locally in 'Music Man', 'Inherit the Wind', 'Cactus Flower', and many other productions.

Making her Minacapelli stage debut is Susan McKeon as Elma Blue, the hard-drinking, nutty neighbor.

While this is her first appearance on the stage, Susan has entertained Minacapelli theatergoers for years as a wise-cracking waitress who constantly breaks up the pre-show activities.

She is no stranger to other stages, however, having an award winning performance in 'Mame' at Slidell Little Theatre to her credit, among others.

George Kelly, a highly accomplished local performer, also makes his Minacapelli debut as the lecherous optometrist, Dr. Abernathy.

Dierdre Tacich, Robin Robinson, and Daylin Call round out the veteran cast.

The production is directed by Joseph T. Riddolfo, director of the highly acclaimed Barefoot in the Park and Come Blow Your Horn. Technical Director is Bob Kearney. Bret Fowlkes is Stage Manager. 9871 in Slidell, and 624-7455 in New Orleans. For reservations, call 643.

Promotion of better reading is most worthwhile undertaking

Bess Foster Smith said of reading: "Although I have not traveled far on earth, through the reading of books I have erased the barriers of time and space. My companions are the immortals—the great and famous people of the past. Reading is my favorite form of travel, and I recommend it wholeheartedly."

"If I am discouraged and need to be taken out of myself, I travel to an old feudal castle somewhere in Southern France just to listen to Montaigne. He talks like a modern even though he lived long ago and far away."

"Retire into yourself," he says, "but first, prepare to receive yourself there. It would be madness to trust in yourself if you do not know how to govern yourself, that is, how to be content with yourself. As for me, I love life and cultivate it just as God has been pleased to grant it to me. Himself, all good. He has made all things good."

"I realize that my mistakes and bad choices are my own fault, and that I can correct them. I can set my sail now," as Montaigne says, "toward a port of destination. I feel better for his chiding."

"In my thankfulness for life and its manifold blessings, I seek out Thoreau, who knew how to suck the very marrow out of life. I sit with him in the doorway of his hut by Walden Pond, where he learned the essentials of life—so that when he came to die he would not discover that he had not lived."

"When we associate with books—good books—the hours go by unimpaired. We are blessed as they always are who possess fully the present—the moment between the eternities of past and future. The sun seems to shine more brightly than ever because it is shining in our minds and hearts. Only that day dawns to which we are awake. The sun is but the morning star."

"In poetic mood, I make free entrance into Poe's enchanted garden where 'no wind dare to stir unless on tiptoe.' I ask, 'If, as you say, beauty is ambrosia on which the soul feeds, just how does it do it?'"

David Guy Powers wrote this:

"Your mind grows by what it feeds on. If you find it filled with trivial details, it is because you are feeding it an unplanned diet. A mind fed on newspapers, certain kinds of magazines and gossip is starved for the full-blooded vitamins of a good book. What a tragedy that we cut ourselves off from the intellectual heritage of great thoughts beautifully expressed."

Dr. William Briggs, professor emeritus of Columbia University, once said that he had enriched his life by a simple plan. When he first married he convinced his wife that it would be a grand idea to take 15 minutes after breakfast each day to read aloud from some of the classics.

His plan was that they would grow together that way, share a common heritage of the world's best thoughts, and have a pleasant start to the daily experience of life. It was a source of nourishment for the mind and a stimulus for the creative experience of living. In a few years they had read many of the classics, but the habit had taken hold of them and they continued it all their lives.

Why not do as Dr. Briggs did, and live with the greatest men on earth? You have freedom from the fate of living in a single age and with a single generation of men.

This very night you can invite to your house one of the most developed intellects that man has known. How? Simply by selecting a famous author who has made YOU his heir by writing his thoughts and feelings for your benefit.

And you don't have to worry about whether he will be tired or not.

No indeed, you can have him at his very best.

You can have as much of his thoughts and his wisdom as you desire. You can direct the evening and have the grandest party of your life. Yours is the wisdom of the ages merely for the taking.

Set aside a period in the day or evening during which you enrich your personality by reading good literature.

Some people seem not to realize that education is a continuing process; that you have to keep learning to keep educated. Dr. Mortimer Adler emphasizes this fact in the following statement:

"The greatest mistake anyone can make about liberal education is to suppose that it can be acquired, once and for all, in the course of one's youth and by passing through school and college."

"This is what school boys do not know and, perhaps, cannot be expected to understand while they are still in school. They can be pardoned the illusion that as they approach the moment of graduation, they are finishing their education.

"But no intelligent adult is subject to this illusion for long, once his formal schooling is completed."

"He soon learns how little he knows, and knows how much he has to learn. He soon comes to understand that if his education were finished with school, he, too, would be finished, so far as mental growth or maturity of understanding and judgment are concerned."

"With the years, he realized how very slowly any human being grows in wisdom. With this realization he recognizes that the reason why schooling cannot make young people wise is also the reason why it cannot complete their education."

"The fullness of time is required for both."

Horace Mann said, "A house without books is like a room without windows. No man, in these times, has a right to bring his children up without making good books available to them."

Jerry Collier said, "Books are a guide in youth, and an entertainment for age. They support us under solitude, and keep us from becoming a burden to ourselves."

"I think that a parent who inculcates in his child a love for reading good books—good literature—has done more for his child than anything else he could possibly do."

To encourage more and better reading, to promote greater circulation of the books in the public library is just about the most worthwhile promotion that can be undertaken, in my opinion, in any community.

There's an Answer!

Condemned to hell?

Q. A few years ago I did some terrible things. It seemed to me everyone was putting me on a pedestal. So I took a year and did all the things I'd never done. I became a pill-popper and ran around with a younger man. During this time I became pregnant. Of course my husband thought it was his. I had a natural miscarriage, and soon afterward I stopped popping pills and stopped seeing the other man.

My kids and husband know nothing about this and now we are involved in church. I want to know if I am condemned to hell for what I have done. Can an adulteress be forgiven?

A. Anyone can be forgiven who is humbly and sincerely contrite and asks God for forgiveness. God is always ready to forgive the person who is sincerely sorry for sins committed and who wants to live a new life.

We are sending you our booklet, Try Prayer Power, which may be of help to you. Anyone wishing a free copy may write to us at Box 500, Pawling, N.Y. 12564.

Not happy?
Q. I treat my family differently than the people I work with. I am usually cheerful at work and not every demanding on those I supervise. I'd rather do what they're missed myself. At home I am strict, have high standards and expect everyone to live up to them. Help! I am not happy treating those I love with harsh words and looks. I am married with two children. Please tell me how to be pleasant to family first.

A. Certainly this split personality you describe can become whole. Start by evaluating your performance at work. Do you always feel cheerful? If not, don't fake it. It takes up too much energy. Instead, while maintaining your dignity, show your employees what you expect of them, encourage them in their work and praise their success.

They'll finish the job, and you won't have to. Then when you go home to your family you'll do so with a feeling of well-being which will carry over in your relationships there. You'll still expect the best from your family, but you'll do it with love and good humor. Then, just notice the results!

No time for her
Q. I am married to a man that never wants to be with me alone, ever. In 30 years we have spent one day by ourselves taking a drive and then that was my idea, not his.

When the children were growing up we went places together as a family. I can't make him understand that we have a life to live together now, and I need to be with him more than ever.

This man simply does not have any time for me. Whenever he can he plans fun times with his boys. I just can't cope any longer. I feel like chopped liver. Doesn't he love me? Am I boring to him? Am I a threat to him? What is wrong with him, or is it me?

A. I suspect that if you calmly reviewed the past seven days in your memory you'd realize that you have spent time alone with your husband. Did you have a meal together? Did you watch a TV program or read while in the same room? Of course you did. These moments count as part of your life together. Don't nag your husband for more of his time. Take the pressure off and let plans for your two develop naturally. Encourage conversation. Reminisce. Enjoy each other. It won't take long for you to notice positive results.

Carey College plans prospective student orientation session

High school and junior college students from the Gulf Coast are invited to William Carey College's "Diamond Jubilee for Prospective Students" Saturday, Nov. 8. Personnel at the Hattiesburg college will help prospective students explore the numerous academic programs available there.

Visitors will have an opportunity to confer with faculty members and meet resident students.

This year's Prospective Student Day is planned as one of the special activities of Carey's 75th anniversary celebration.

The institution opened in 1906 as South Mississippi College, but closed some three years later after a fire destroyed the administration building.

Reopening in 1911 as Mississippi Woman's College, it came to be operated by the Mississippi Baptist Convention.

In the early 1950s, it was granted co-educational status, and the name was changed to William Carey College.

Today, William Carey is a fully accredited four-year college. Its academic structure includes professional schools of nursing, business, and music, as well as the traditional School of Arts and Sciences. Some 50 majors are available, and the faculty-student ratio is approximately 1 to 20, based on the present full-time equivalent enrollment.

Participants in Carey's "Diamond Jubilee for Prospective Students" will register between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. on Nov. 8. During the day, they will be entertained by two student groups, the Carey College Chorus and the Serampore Players, and by Miss William Carey College, Dianne Evans, who was third alternate to Miss Mississippi.

Visitors will also be treated to lunch. Students may get additional information from their school counselors. Reservations may be made by writing the Director of Admissions, William Carey College, Hattiesburg, MS 39401, or by calling 582-5051, ext. 210 or 211.

Gem Society reports on November stone

The Topaz, gem stone for November - moves from San Luis Potosi and Durango, Mexico. Topaz is said to be abundant in the gem gravels of Burma and Sri Lanka. The term "smoky topaz," "citrine topaz," etc. are misnomers and really are prices of several hundred dollars per carat. The true Topaz is very hard, reading light on the Mohs scale, is excellent for jewelry and takes a high polish. Brazil is also the chief source for colorless, pale sherry and blue varieties of Topaz. Colorless, yellow and sherry colored gems are also found in Mexico. Topaz is said to be abundant in the gem gravels of Burma and Sri Lanka. The term "smoky topaz," "citrine topaz," etc. are misnomers and really are prices of several hundred dollars per carat. The true Topaz is very hard, reading light on the Mohs scale, is excellent for jewelry and takes a high polish. Brazil is also the chief source for colorless, pale sherry and blue varieties of Topaz. Colorless, yellow and sherry Colorless stones are both attractive and inexpensive. The ancients believed the Topaz had magical healing powers. Birthday customs stem from antiquity. No records were kept in ancient times of the birth dates of common people. One of the first birthdays on record was that of a Pharaoh, described in the Book of Genesis. By the 12th century, Christians were keeping birth records. No recognized date has been established as origin of the birthstone custom, although birthday cards appeared in America about 1850.

According to Joel Arem, gem book author, the Bible contains over 1,700 references to gems under 125 Greek and Hebrew names. The names are confusing because the ancients had to rely on color as a guide. The number 12 was also significant. Each of the 12 tribes of Israel was represented with a different gem. Each of the 12 apostles was assigned a specific gemstone, and each of the 12 months of the year was assigned a stone. The idea of the birthstone apparently came along in the 18th Century.

TIGER VAN - Shari Bourn, Vicki Young, and Lisa Peterson stopped by the Sea Coast Echo office on their way to the annual Deep South Marching Band Festival Saturday. Young is captain of the Bay High Flag corps. The Bay High Tiger marching band received superior ratings in all categories. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

DIAMONDHEAD BAPTIST CHURCH will dedicate this first of three buildings planned for its 3.5 acre tract in the development at 10 a.m. Sunday. The new building was completed March 23, at an approximate cost of $150,000 on land provided by the Mississippi Baptist Convention and the Gulf Coast Baptist Association. Dr. Earl Kelly, executive secretary of the convention, will be featured speaker. The Church Choir will sing "How Firm a Foundation." A special concert of sacred music will be presented at 1 p.m. by Mrs. Karen Kollasch.

Hoyle of New Orleans. Lunch will be served at the church at noon with the public invited. The church's building committee includes Guy Clay, chairman; George Kollasch; Ronnie Fletcher, and Hoyle Johnson. The finance committee is composed of Dick Golding, chairman; Tom Ballard; Mrs. Marion Kollasch; Dr. Frances Mayfield; and Mrs. Myra Craft, treasurer. Financing for the building was provided by Hancock Bank. (Photo by Bob Hubbard)

By L. S. WALKER, D. D.
"IF GOD BE FOR US, who can be against us?" - Rom. 8:31.

The question quite clearly implies the answer. God is certainly for His children! There is nothing quite so wonderful as knowing you are saved - knowing you are one of God's children because you have been "born again" into the family of God.

"For ye are the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus" - Gal. 3:26.

One's experience of salvation does not mean that he or she has been perfected in the flesh. Like everyone else, there are times when I am discouraged, even a bit depressed, but I have never felt defeated.

Like Jacob of old, I go, as it were "back to Bethel," on such occasions to recall and rejoice again in my experience of many years ago when I first felt that deep and abiding assurance of my sins forgiven, and my name inscribed in Heaven's Book of Life. This is always the greatest cause for rejoicing (Luke 10:17-20).

It is only human to rejoice in the thrill of triumph and achievement... whatever it might be. It may be the needed boon to our ego! Be that as it may, such experiences justify our hopes, encourage our faint hearts, and give us the lift we all need along the way.

Reared a country boy in south Mississippi having perhaps, little knowledge of so many matters, but sure of my salvation and calling to preach, I never cared to conform to the conventional course laid out for modern ministers.

I guess I have been "a rebel in the rat race" as far as the common stereotype assembly-line theological seminary processed preacher is concerned... and, I suppose it's too late for me to change now, even if I wanted to.

I was told many years ago that I would never be "successful as a minister unless I changed my theology, my attitude and my crowd." I never bothered to find out about all this. I have been too busy! I have enjoyed every minute of my 39 years in the ministry, all my faults, failures and foul-ups notwithstanding.

I have found many "rough places" along the way, to be sure, but the Lord has always been there to give strength for my weakness, and to supply sufficient grace for every trial.

In my lack of "success," I have been privileged to preach in a dozen or more states, in Mexico, and even in far-away Israel.

I have pastored some of the best churches in Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana.

In each of the states where I pastored I was honored by my brethren to serve as president of their State Associations.

I also edited each of their state papers, of one of one of which I was its founder.

It was my highest honor to be elected twice as president of the Baptist Missionary Association of America.

God permitted me to have a fundamental part in establishing one college in Mississippi; to be the chairman of its first board of trustees where I served for some 15 years.

There are very few boards or committees in all our denominational work, local, state and national, on which I have not served.

If all this sounds like "bragging," so be it, the Lord has given me lots to rejoice about.

Don't tell that all praise goes to the Lord. I already know that!

I am "bragging" on Him, and rejoicing in His love and goodness.

It's great to serve the Lord! As Paul once requested, "Would to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly; and indeed bear with me" - II Cor. 11:1.

For the past eight years I have been my happy privilege to write a weekly newspaper column, a devotional commentary featured in upward of 30 papers read by an estimated 450,000 people.

I would not be telling the whole truth if I didn't say I have enjoyed such honors and opportunities.

Because it all fills in the face of those religious sophisticates who said I would have to alter my convictions and change my crowds, or be relegated to mediocrity, if not complete failure.

Let me say again: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

I have never aspired to "success," fortune nor fame.

I have earnestly prayed that God would help me to be faithful. As a Christian, I am a child of God. As a minister, I am the servant of Jesus Christ - no more, no less.

Whatever has been my status as measured by men, I have never compromised my convictions and Biblical principles as I understand them.

A newspaper editor once asked me where I pastored. When I told him, he said, "That's pretty small potatoes, isn't it?"

My reply was: "Yes, I suppose so, I am a small potato myself."

This poor fellow didn't sound like a very big potato himself.

I have never cared to be "anybody's boy." I am striving every wit to be the Lord's man!

I am very much aware of the fact that most human honors, for whatever reason or measure, are of little consequence in the contest of our standing with God.

Whatever place the Lord has for me to fill here, I wish to be busy in that place, and be found waiting and watching when He comes or when He calls me home!
